CAREER BRIEF

Dr. Jeffrey A. Butts is Research Professor and Director of the Research and Evaluation Center at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice, City University of New York. His research focuses on discovering and improving policies and programs for young people involved in the justice system and strategies for preventing and reducing community violence. Previously, he was a research fellow with Chapin Hall at the University of Chicago (2005-2009), director of the Program on Youth Justice at the Urban Institute in Washington, D.C. (1997-2005), and senior research associate at the National Center for Juvenile Justice in Pittsburgh (1991-1997). Before his research career, he was a juvenile court drug abuse counselor in Eugene, Oregon and a permanency planning social worker with the State child welfare agency in Portland, Oregon. In 2012 and 2013, he was a member of the committee on assessing juvenile justice reform for the National Research Council of the National Academies. In 2015, the Attorney General of the United States appointed him to a four-year term as a member of the Science Advisory Board for the Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice.

Since 1990, Dr. Butts has managed research projects with total budgets valued at $56 million ($48M in constant dollars). He has worked with policymakers and justice practitioners in 28 states, published two books, dozens of book chapters and reports for philanthropic foundations and government agencies, as well as peer-reviewed articles in journals such as Criminology & Public Policy, the American Journal of Criminal Law, Crime and Delinquency, Criminal Justice Policy Review, Judicature, Annual Review of Public Health, Youth & Society, and Children and Youth Services Review. His research and policy views have been covered by the New York Times, the Washington Post, the Los Angeles Times, the Chicago Tribune, the San Francisco Chronicle, the Miami Herald, USA Today, the Economist, the Guardian, Le Monde, Christian Science Monitor, BusinessWeek, US News & World Report, Time Magazine, CNN, National Public Radio, and the American Prospect, among others.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE
